General Information:

Alfonso Morini initially produced excellent 125 cc two-stroke motorcycles when he founded his own company in 1946. With the Corsaro, Morini not only succeeded in creating an attractive design, he also gave his models unusual names such as Tessette Sport, Sbarazzino and Briscola. The Corsaro was launched in two versions, 125 cc and 150 cc, in 1959. Our Morini is in good condition, as the Corsaro was restored a few years ago. Weighing 90 kg, the little Corsair can reach speeds of up to 130 km/h.
