General Information:

Isothermos initially produced thermal equipment in Bresso. The first model, the 65 cc Furetto scooter, launched in 1949, enjoyed only limited success. In 1950, the ISO 125 scooter was launched, which was more successful. The scooter we are offering was manufactured between 1953 and 1955. With a telescopic fork, foot shift, 3-speed gearbox and rear swing arm, it achieved good performance. The Isoscooter 125 is in very good condition, as it was restored a few years ago. In 1960, the company owner decided to focus on building sports cars, so the production of scooters was discontinued. In 1961, the ISO 500 motorcycle was presented to the public, but it was not accepted by the motorcycle market.
