General Information:

In the early 1930s, 200 ccm motorbikes were tax-free and did not require a driving licence. The 201 OSL underwent a facelift in 1936. A key distinguishing feature was the increase in power to 8.5 PS, and it was visually recognisable by its hairpin valve springs. We have a very fine model featuring original details. The break-up of a collection means a new future for the 201 OSL.
